Students who participate in the Geektopia Theme Community share their love of geek culture through lively debates, game nights, field trips, and more. Students in Geektopia are known for passionate discussions about their favorite fandoms, comics, movies, books, games, and more. By taking the time to examine these other worlds, students in Geektopia are able to explore how geek culture influences our society, art, and technology. Past events have included attending movie premieres, traveling to the Savannah Comic-Con, coffee chats with guest speakers, yearlong D&D campaigns, cosplay workshops, and trivia competitions.

COMMUNITY EXPECTATIONS
Students in this Theme Community will:

• Live in a shared bedroom in Watson Hall with another member of the TC
• Pay a $20 activity fee each semester
• Participate in events, field trips, and other experiences focused on underlying themes found in geek culture. Some themes include personal responsibility, leadership, and understanding the perspectives of others
• Promote a supportive living environment by engaging in meaningful and respectful conversations with peers, guests, and staff

COMMUNITY RECOGNITION
This community has been AWESOME since its inception in 2018. Not only has the community won awards, but so has the Resident Advisor and Presentations about the community at professional conferences.

WHY CHOOSE AN TC?
Theme Communities (TCs) are a great way to quickly get to know fellow students living in your hall, be provided with opportunities to meet with others with a similar interest, and cultivate a greater connection to Georgia Southern. All of these factors help provide a smooth transition to college and ultimately lead to greater personal, academic, and professional success.

HOW DO I JOIN?
After completing your housing application, indicate interest in the TC by completing a Residential Learning Community application. Priority will be given to students who apply by March 1.
