The Global Crossroads Theme Community pairs domestic and international students with each other for a unique first-year experience. Living in this community allows students to learn about different cultures, share their own culture, and become a part of the Eagle Nation culture together. Some traditions in this community include:

- The “Culture Shock” series to learn more about different cultures
- The “Make Your House Your Home” series to share your culture with others through food & stories

This community is great for students with majors in international studies, business, and those interested in study abroad.

STUDENT REQUIREMENTS

Students of this LLC are required to:

- Live in Centennial Place on the Statesboro Campus with the other Global Crossroads Students
- Students are asked to participate in community programs, such as the Welcome Social, community discussions, and campus walk-over events.
- Students are asked to join the Student Advisory Board (SAB) and planning social events that build connections and friendships with other theme community students.
- All students in the TC pay a $20 student activity fee each semester that helps pay for the cost of specialty programming.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Indicate interest to live in the LLC on your housing application and complete additional LLC application materials. Priority will be given to students who apply by March 1st.

WHY CHOOSE AN TC?

Theme Communities (TCs) are a great way to quickly get to know fellow students living in your hall, be provided with opportunities to meet with others with a similar interest, and cultivate a greater connection to Georgia Southern. All of these factors help provide a smooth transition to college and ultimately lead to greater personal, academic, and professional success.
